PANDEMIC

Evidence shows the pandemic has been an extremely stressful experience for many young Australians, particularly our most disadvantaged young people.

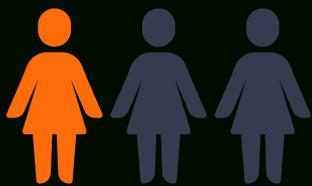

In 2020 a headspace survey found that 75% of young people reported their mental health deteriorated during the Covid-19 pandemic.

42,400

Almost 42,400 young people aged 15–24 presented on their own to Specialist Homelessness Services (SHS) agencies during 2019/2020.

Young people presenting on their own made up 15% of all SHS clients but accounted for 73% of all SHS clients aged 15–24.

1 in 3

... reported family and domestic violence.

3 in 5 were female;

1 in 4 were 15-17 year olds;

1/4 identified as Indigenous;

1/2 reported mental health issues;

17% reported housing crisis as main reason to seek help;

17% reported family and domestic violence as the main reason to seek help.

FROM OUR PRESIDENT

A year on and we are just starting to emerge from the impact and challenges of the Coronavirus pandemic and can feel life starting to regain a sense of normality. The last eighteen months has presented challenges on a global level impacting the lives of millions of people.

Whilst here in Australia, we have fared reasonably well with a strategy focused on saving lives and ensuring that the health system could cope with projected demand, this has not come without sacrifice. Closing borders and locking down businesses has led to increased isolation, unemployment, mental illness, homelessness, family and domestic violence and poverty. Young people, especially disadvantaged young people, have been impacted by the disruption to their education, training and employment opportunities and the mental health toll this uncertainty has caused.

Our key priority and the reason we exist is our shared concern for the well-being of young people and especially those at risk of being left behind in the areas we work in and beyond. Many young people were struggling prior to the pandemic which added significantly to their concerns and the challenges they face.

Our staff and volunteers have worked extremely hard to ensure that the young people in our care have the best possible support. This report is a testimony to their and the young people's efforts.

We are also one year on from introducing the Burdekin model of service delivery to the Inner West of Sydney. We were very fortunate to celebrate the official launch of the establishment of our Inner West presence in June 2021 with a face-to-face Covid-19 safe event. This was one of the highlights of the year as it underlined just how well received our services had been in the Inner West of Sydney and gave staff and volunteers a sense of accomplishment and belonging.

Alongside managing the service impacts of the pandemic, the organisation also grew enormously which led us to review how the Board and staff could best support the organisation's changing needs. This resulted in a new Strategic Plan underpinned by values that will support us in our future journey. This is set out in the document "Our Shared Future". It outlines who we are, our key priorities and what we aspire to be in the future – and indeed confirmed our wish to inspire a future full of hope for young people - #BRDKHOPE

CONTINUED...

The Board conducted a skills audit and called for expressions of interest for new board members. This has resulted in the recruitment of Shoshana Wall, Marianna Brungs and Morri Young to the Board. In addition, we have established a good operating rhythm with the Finance, Audit and Risk Committee and Marketing & Fundraising Committees which are supporting the work of the Board. I acknowledge and thank my fellow Board members for stepping up and giving generously of their time and skills during a challenging year.

The review of changing organisation needs continued at the staff level and a new structure has been implemented. This resulted in the appointment of some new key staff members to better support the CEO and staff teams.

At the service delivery level, Burdekin continues to be able to provide more for our young people due to the generous financial assistance of old and new supporters. This support has enabled us to continue our outreach work, our therapeutic, trauma informed approach as well as many other activities aimed at enabling our young people to reach their full potential, as they would in a family setting. Our core services are funded by the NSW Government and I would like to thank the Departmental staff members who have worked with us and shared our commitment to always seek the best outcome for the children and young people in our care. Like many other organisations, we worked extremely hard in a year that presented many challenges especially in relation to the pandemic. This placed extraordinary demands on our staff and volunteers and I would like to thank everybody wholeheartedly for their professionalism, commitment and genuine care.

Last but by no means least, I want to say how proud we are of the young people in our care and of what they become with just a little extra support and commitment to their wellbeing.

I am excited about the forthcoming year, we have created solid foundations and look forward to exploring new partnerships and opportunities in line with our mission.

Ms Gill Lawrence
President
The Burdekin Association

FROM OUR CEO

I would like to start my report with acknowledging the commitment and passion of each member of The Burdekin Association team over the past year. On 1st July 2020 we had the privilege of welcoming a group of staff and young people who came to us as part of a pre-planned business transfer from a service exiting its residential contract. This was not an easy time - throw in a pandemic and it takes the workplace to an even higher level of complexity.

My admiration and awe are directed at these inspirational staff. Through all the challenges they faced they stuck by the children and young people in their care who transferred with them – providing consistency, care and devotion.

The Inner West staff have exceeded all expectations in their ability to provide accommodation, care, support and hope to young people from the area. We increased capacity by 600% in only one year. Whilst we have been able to provide homes for so many more children and young people, this came at a cost, our staff pushed themselves.

My utmost respect and pride are afforded to you all as you battled fast growth and the ever-increasing risk of Covid-19. Whilst our Inner West service provision grew our Northern Beaches based team continued to provide consistent, professional and quality support to the children, young people, families and community we serve.

It has been an absolute joy to witness the growth and development of some of the young people who have been in our care for a number of years. Many entered our care in their early teens and have blossomed into the most amazing and inspiring young women and men - demonstrating a resilience beyond expectations. Each one of them has had their own battles to face and their journey has been difficult, yet they pushed through.

Whilst Management focused on the Inner West, all Northern Beaches staff continued to meet the needs of our client cohort. Because of their dedication and commitment, Burdekin has reached an excellent level of security and stability within the broader social sector.

This past 6 months has been the most challenging time with a number of young people and staff testing positive to Covid-19. A number of staff volunteered to live alongside our children and young people whilst in isolation going well beyond the call of duty.

Whilst we connected through zoom each day with these locked down homes, the intensity of the task staff took on became evident. These staff deserve our praise and recognition. I thank Pat, Nikisha, Emma Jayne, Jamie Claire, Stephanie, Sparrow, Dianna, Ciara and Emily for their dedication to ensure the children and young people in your care were provided a safe and consistent home during their lockdown periods.

CONTINUED...

In addition, I thank Niall and Jacinta for their leadership of these homes. I could go on and name so many more staff (however I will refrain as there are many and I fear I may forget someone) who came together to ensure that every young person, staff member and home had everything they needed, including food, PPE, furniture, and technology. Thank you to each of you for the role you played in ensuring Burdekin got through the critical period of Covid-19.

Through the sustained growth and the ever-present Covid-19 risk we managed to bring all staff and the Board together to develop our new strategic plan for the coming years. We also took the opportunity to articulate our shared values, vision and mission which truly reflect what Burdekin stands for.

We also snuck in our formal Inner West launch just before this year's lockdown which embodied what is important to Burdekin - a celebration of community, our staff, Board, stakeholders and our children and young people singing, laughing and running around enjoying ice cream, a magician and music. Special thanks to Anna, one of our wonderful young people, who MC'd this event.

Our growth led to the need for a new organisational structure and many more staff. It has been exciting to bring a diverse and passionate array of people into the Burdekin family with an amazing depth of skills, experience, knowledge, and passion.

This year has only been made possible through the support and expertise of our focussed and driven Board, setting a high level of expectations, and providing the guidance and resources to reach our goals. I thank them for their unwavering support and look forward to the year ahead.

Burdekin exists to meet the needs of our community in particular the children and young people who need our support, care and accommodation. Our existence and quality service delivery are only made possible through our partnership with the Department of Communities and Justice, the Department of Health, our local stakeholders, donors and community partners. It has been a privilege to work alongside and be supported by you all and I look forward to the year ahead, when we can once again come together in person and celebrate our successes as well as the successes of the children and young people we are honoured to walk alongside.

OUR WORK & IMPACT

OUT OF HOME CARE & YOUTH SERVICES

At Burdekin we provide services in the Inner West and the Northern Beaches regions of Sydney across two areas:

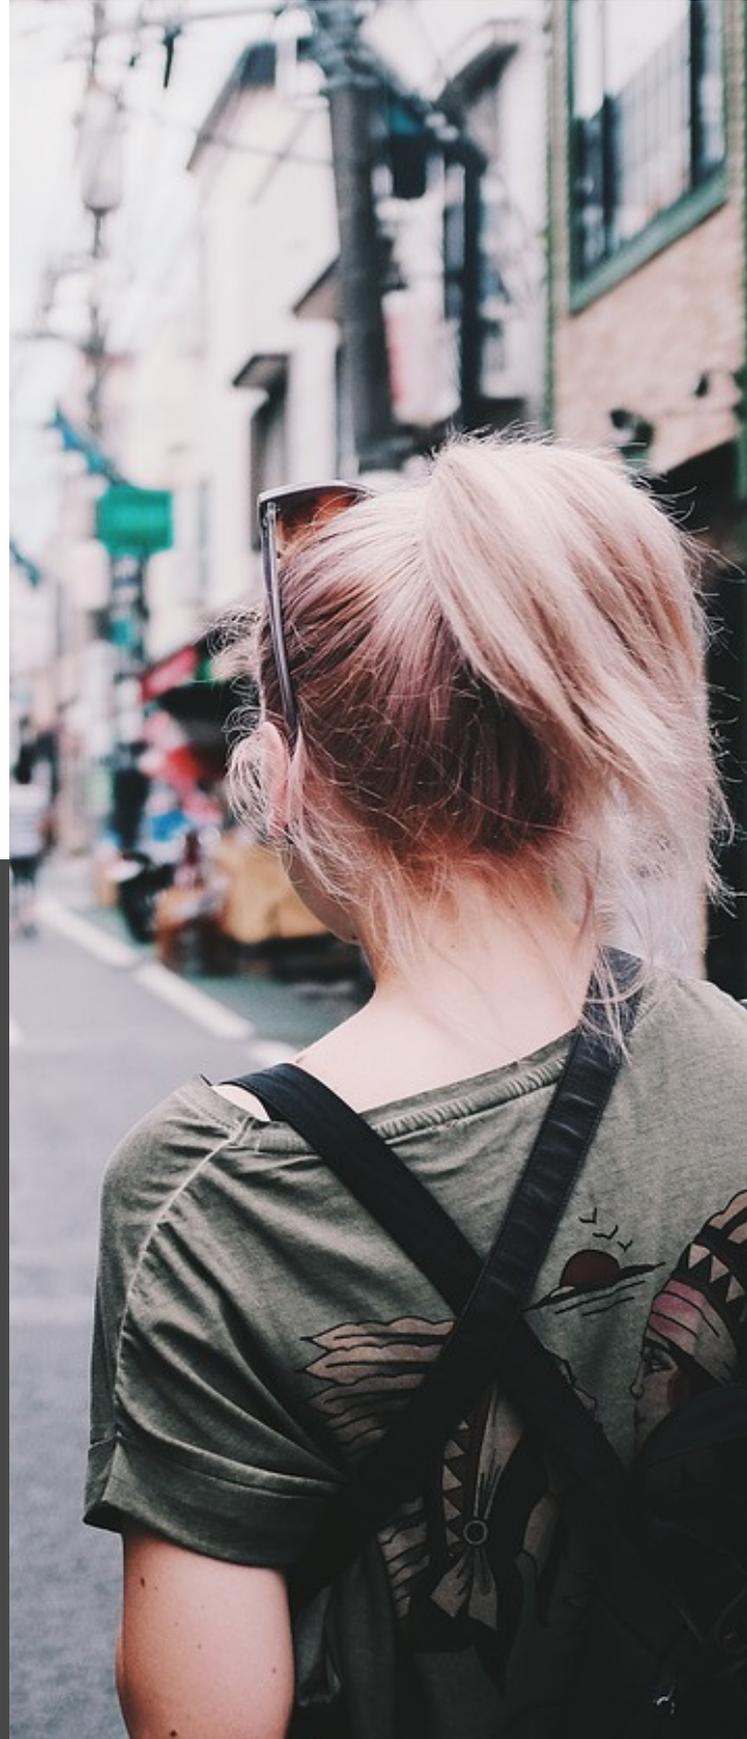

- Out of Home Care (OOHC) and
- Youth Services.

The Out of Home Care program offers many different housing options like the Supported Family Group Home and Supported Independent Living (SIL).

We also run complementary services like the Education Specialist project which is mainly used by young people in OOHC.

Our Youth Services program include:

- Youth Housing
- Outreach, including general support, the Avalon Youth Hub, The Dee Why Project, the School Wellbeing Project and
- Family Intervention.

OUR WORK & IMPACT

OUT OF HOME CARE

Our Supported Family Group Home is for children and young people aged 9 – 17 to live with a carer who provides a nurturing home environment. Case managers provide intensive support to Burdekin Foster Carers, young people and their families. An on-call service for young people and carers is available 24 hours per day, 7 days a week.

58 young people currently in out of home care

34 Inner West

Supported Independent Living (SIL) options are available for young people in out-of-home care. The entry age is between 16 to 18 years old and the young people are offered opportunities to remain within our services through our aftercare housing program while working towards independent living. A Case Manager is available to support the young people.

24 Northern Beaches

Our Staffed Home program provides a home-like environment with up to four young people and a carer. This program is for times when it is neither appropriate nor viable for a young person to live in a home with a key adult. We work with young people to identify a primary carer or explore another step-down option such as SIL.

Our Interim Care model provides short-term interim accommodation for 9-15 year olds who would otherwise be at risk of entering emergency placements. The objective is to find a longer-term solution such as restoration to family, foster care or other appropriate housing options within the community they know.

Interim Care aims to provide short-term care that is holistic, individualised, and takes a team-based approach to the complex impacts of abuse, neglect, separation from families and significant others, along with other forms of severe adversity.

HOMES

OUT OF HOME CARE

37 homes across Ashfield, Botany, Dee Why, Hornsby, Marrickville, Randwick, Sylvania, Waterloo, Lindfield, Beverly Hills, Roselands, Stanmore, Hurstville and Croydon.

These homes are provided in partnership with private landlords, community housing providers and DCJ. We are continuously looking for new partnerships to provide our young people with the best housing options.

OOHC FOSTER CARERS

The statistics tell us there has been a 40% drop in the number of children and young people entering care since 2016. Nevertheless, the fact remains that a significant number of children and young people in Burdekin's care are not in the best placement option, simply because we are unable to recruit enough Burdekin Foster Carers.

Some of our young people have had the benefit of the love and support of Burdekin Foster Carers for many years and once again, last year, the need for Foster Carers was high.

The pandemic has made it difficult to find Foster Carers for children and young people in need. There is an urgent need for Foster Carers in all of NSW to meet current demand.

Foster Carers are made up of people from all walks of life. The Burdekin Association provides training and on-the-ground support to ensure that our Burdekin Foster Carers are enabled to offer safe, stable and nurturing environments for our young people. We are looking for individuals with the experience and skill-set to manage young people with complex and challenging needs.

At The Burdekin Association we know that many teenagers are in need of a safe, secure, nurturing home and that many people won't consider fostering teenagers because of negative public misconceptions about them.

Fostering a teenager provides young people with a consistent, nurturing, adult role model at a vital time in their life, allowing them to build up necessary steps to independence.

You do not need to have had your own teenagers or have had experience with teenagers. What you do need to have is an open heart to support young people who need to be loved and protected.

"We couldn't turn a blind eye to the needs that are right here in Sydney for kids who need adults to believe in them, who can open up their homes to them."

Jill, Foster Carer with Burdekin

"She (their foster child) had just turned 15, had never been to a beach, never walked on the sand, it was a totally new experience for her."

Tom, Foster Carer with Burdekin

OUR EDUCATION PROJECT

The Northern Beaches Education Specialist provided education support to 11 (45%) of Northern Beaches OOHC clients. We will be expanding Specialist Education support to the Inner West in the 2021/22 year.

This project has been made possible through the generous support of the Chappel Foundation, the Vernon Foundation and a number of local community members.

OUR WORK & IMPACT

YOUTH SERVICES

Family Intervention Program

Some families face numerous environmental and social challenges.

The aim of our Family Intervention Program is to support the young person to prevent homelessness as well as to minimise harm to the family unit.

We offer counselling and case management and are family inclusive wherever this is possible.

A young person can self-refer or be referred by a family member or friend. We focus on the individual needs, strengths, preferences and culture of each young person.

Early intervention can prevent a life of homelessness, unemployment and chronic illness, all of which bear a great cost to society.

Outreach

The aim of Outreach is to build an emotionally healthy community by looking after the needs of our young people.

93 young people were provided with

1:1 general outreach support and information, referral, support or crisis intervention.

Avalon Youth Hub

The Avalon Youth Hub (AYH) is one such program. AYH's aim is to improve young people's access to services and family-related support services in the Pittwater region.

The AYH offers free counselling, case management, mentoring, advice, referrals and general support. The Hub also provides workshops and information sessions that can be tailored to meet the needs of the community.

The Dee Why Project

This project supports young people to prevent or manage gaming and gambling habits.

Two workshops were delivered on Safe Gaming and Drug and Alcohol use. 24 young people attended these workshops. 96% learnt something new.

The program has supported a further 6 young people in the Dee Why area with 1:1 case management and youth worker support to support healthy relationships to money management and gambling.

The School Wellbeing Project

The School Wellbeing Project is a community partnership program delivered at Barrenjoey High School. One of our Case Manager attends the school 2 days per week as the Student Wellbeing Officer.

YOUTH SERVICES - HOUSING

64

... young people were provided with secure housing.

This is the equivalent of 11,916 nights of a safe and secure home for young people.

Key reasons for young people to seek support from Burdekin were:

- Financial difficulties
- Housing affordability stress
- Relationship/family breakdown
- Mental health issues

Over half were sleeping rough or in emergency accommodation when they came to us.

OUR CLIENTS

What our Clients Say

Summary

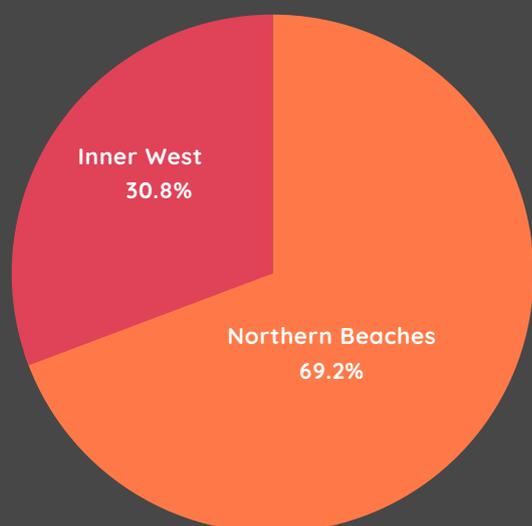

During the pandemic in 2020 The Burdekin Association undertook a client survey to take the pulse of how the young people in our care are doing, what is going well and what is going not so well in our continuous strive to better meet their needs.

Introduction

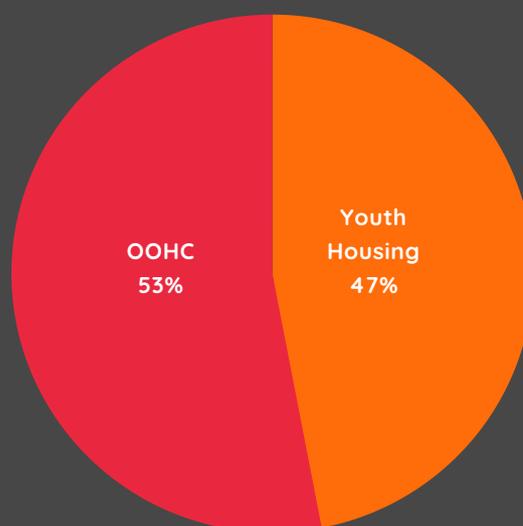

Data for the client survey was collected over a period of 3 months via an online survey platform. The survey team comprised of volunteers Amy, Bec and Caitlin, headed by Burdekin employee and Volunteer Manager Jill.

The opportunity to participate in the survey was provided to all clients in Burdekin's housing programs – Out of Home Care and Youth Housing – in both the Inner West and Northern Beaches. The survey was conducted mainly during the difficult period of Sydney's lengthy COVID lockdown. This presented the opportunity to undertake a "pulse check" on the state of the service delivery during this challenging time on top of the purpose of the survey to gather vital client feedback to inform future decision-making and get a clear understanding of how well we are doing as a service provider.

Q5 What could your Youth/ Support Workers do to support you further?

66 answered, 0 unanswered

'I don't like being on my own, so I'd like them to spend more time with me, going for a walk, sitting on the couch watching a movie or cooking. They do do this but when they don't, I get lonely. I do understand when they have paperwork to do. I'd like to go on bike rides and I really like that Jamie does workouts with me.'

'More listening, talking to me when I'm sad (some workers only - I need to feel comfortable), want more workers that I like on sleepovers rather than ones I don't know. I don't like feeling pushed into doing certain things (school, psychology).'

Staff from Charterhall and plants and pots from Flick Macqueen Plant Design helped us with a garden design at one of our Stanmore properties.

The people over at BINGO Industries have been a huge support to The Burdekin Association by providing about $10,000 – $15,000 worth of bins over the last year.
